Which semester do you plan to register for a project-based HONR course? _____

Courses such as HONR 460, 462, and 464 are project-based classes designed to meet the learning outcomes of the scholarly project requirement. Depending on the course topic and project, you may be working in teams, collaborating with partners, or engaging with the public. All members of the class will be called on to bring their interests, talents, knowledge, and skills to bear on the project(s).

Even though you do not yet know which HONR class you will be taking, please consider how you will invest in the class. In 200 words or less, describe the interests, talents, knowledge, and/or skills you will bring with you to the community of inquiry. Please note: Your response to this prompt will be shared with the instructor of your class, who may use it for reflection at a later date.
