

Call for Proposals:
HONR Courses for Fall 2024, Spring 2025, and Summer (study abroad) 2025

All Purdue faculty (TT and clinical) are invited to propose academic year 2024-2025 courses for the Honors College, which enrolls highly motivated undergraduates from every disciplinary college. HONR courses are small, interdisciplinary, high impact classes that introduce students to innovative topics, ideas, and pedagogies. All students at Purdue with a GPA of 3.0 or above may enroll in HONR courses.

The deadline for proposals is November 17, 2023.

Types of HONR Courses

- Proposed courses may be 1, 2, or 3 credits
- Proposed courses may be 8 or 16 weeks in duration
- Proposed courses may be experiential, seminars, or research-based
- Proposed courses may be study away/study abroad programs
- Proposed courses may be solo course instruction models or team-taught, which are encouraged especially when offered by cross-disciplinary faculty pairs or teams

Proposal Procedure

Proposals should consist of a course description that covers learning objectives, interdisciplinary range, use of high impact practices, and course deliverables. They should also include the proposed course title, number of credits, name(s) of instructional faculty, and proposed period of instruction (Fall, Spring, Summer). The most successful applications address the Honors College's pedagogical goals. See our FAQs for more information.

Faculty are responsible for obtaining their department head's approval to teach for the Honors College.
